

Look!

CosPlay, Children's Play, Helpful Hints,
Comics & More

GHS WaveLength

The GHS WaveLength is produced by Mrs. Desposito's Enrichment class.

Spirited Essayists Meet to Mull

GHS Writers Club Explore Personal Expression

By Javaris Rogan

Writing, a form of art that has been around for hundreds and thousands of years, is something used by others to either express their views and/or opinions, present someone with some factual information, or just simply to entertain a captive audience with a story that vary from non-fiction to fiction and many other genres of literature.

In today's society, technology has given us the ability to literally become a writer at any given moment at any given time. Now even with the strong sense of knowing how easily accessible writing is, some people still approach writing with a more cautious outlook, fearful of how others will critique their writing.

If you're one of those people, there's a group at Gallatin High School that may be right for you. This group is none other than the Writers Group, a new group at GHS started by students who share a common interest and passion for writing. This group provides a place where students are free of judgement and a place where they are able to freely express their opinions and ideas in a friendly environment.

Jacob Easton battles in the ring at the Green Wave Festival, October 7.

Typical days in the writers group are usually comprised of stories or papers that are organized around a prompt and are then discussed towards the end of the meeting. Group members are also able to bring in different forms of literature and share them with the group, not limiting their writing expression to a specific style but rather reaching for a fuller and more personal experience with the written word.

Writers Group meetings take place in the Library from 7:30 a.m.- 8:05 a.m. every Thursday morning. Anyone interested in joining this group can attend a meeting and meet other students who also enjoy exploring the written word. But if you show up, be prepared to embark on a great opportunity you'll never regret!

By Brittany Scruggs

Halloween is just around the corner, and for some of us, it's our favorite time of the year. For the rest of us, Halloween is all year ... thanks to "cosplay!"

Cosplay is short for costume play. Cosplay is dressing up as your favorite character - no matter the series! Cosplay was popular in eastern culture, and then became popular in America in the early 2000's. Many people do cosplay for a living. Yaya-han, a famous

Continued on page 2 ...

Make It Up With Them

By Elena Ramirez

Attention All Students: If you have missed any school and need help with knowing how to get your make-up work, you are reading the appropriate story!

Missed the whole day? If your absence was excused or even unexcused, go to your teacher before or at the end of class and ask them for your make-up work. Your mission is to ask your teacher within 24 hours upon coming back to school. After you ask and receive your work you have three days to complete it and turn in your work. If you do not do your work, or do not turn in your work before the fourth day, you will receive a zero for it.

Follow these directions and you will stay caught up in class and if your absences are excused your grades will not be badly affected.

GHS's Cosplay Kids

... continued from page 1.

cosplayer, makes all her costumes from scratch, as many people do.

"Don't plan a cosplay unless you have the time to dedicate to the hobby," said Sarah Scruggs.

Cosplay is special and time-consuming from planning the costume to sewing the final stitch. But once you make something to call yours, it is so satisfying. Many students at Gallatin High School cosplay. They cosplay from anime, video games, and comics. "Cosplay is something really interesting to me and I hope to try it one day," said Levi Davis.

Pictured is the cast of Fractured. Front row, l to r: Anthony De La Rosa (Jack Bean), Demarco Placide (Prince Braggart). 2nd row, l to r: Kohen Williams (Prince Namby-Pamby), Luci Fernandez (Dorothy), Myah Forbes (Zelda), Kensie McKee (Zerene), Tessa Fralinger (Ciji), Zach Blaylock (Jack B. Nimble), Allison Roberts (Wizard). 3rd row, l to r: Bayleigh Gibson (Mama), Peyton White (Beauty), Juliette Spurling (Snow White), Lauren Hale (Cinderella), Aby Coca (Esmeralda), Savon Yarbrough (Lance A. Lot), Caelan Fuqua (Jack N. Jill), Mr. Randy Burse (GHS Theatre Director). Back row, l to r: Jay Ingersoll (lights/sound), Michael Kochinski (Guard), Jillian Donoho (Jester), Kyle Rhodes (King/Co-Director), Shardanay Smith (Queen/Co-Director), Landon Taylor (Prince Lewd), Isaih Hughes (Tin Man).

Editorial: Jersey Girls

By Navia Scales

The Senior 2K16 Jerseys are an unseen trend this year, but with the jerseys being a netted type of material, they require a shirt underneath. This helps to keep our senior boys from drooling like a hungry hound-dog. Mrs. Luna said, "Well, yea, they ought to have something under them." Mrs. Hale also gave me a similar opinion. She said, "They're fine as long as they have another layer underneath."

On the other side of the argument were mostly senior boys expressing their strong views on the jerseys.

Senior Caelin Fuqua said, "I like it."

